

I question the wisdom of creating a separate classification of evidence the spoliation of which would be covered by a Uniform Rule rather than by the general law applicable to spoliation of evidence. I think it is a mistake to create a separate class of evidence to be handled differently, and I think it is a larger mistake to do so by Uniform Rule rather than by legislation.

Kind regards,
Paula

Paula Marie Rafferty
Staff Attorney
Office of the Fulton County Attorney